

The British Journal of General Practice

Editorials

Original papers

Review article

145 In the Journal this month

- 146 Modular continuing medical education: our flexible friend?
Alastair F Wright

- 147 Urinary incontinence in women — a conundrum T C O'Dowd

- 149 Urinary incontinence in women: its prevalence and its management in a health promotion clinic Ginette L Harrison and David S Memel

- 153 To what extent do clinical notes by general practitioners reflect actual medical performance? A study using simulated patients
Jan-Joost Rethans, Eric Martin and Job Metsemakers

- 157 An agenda for change in referral — consensus from general practice
Elaine McColl, John Newton and Allen Hutchinson

- 165 Prescribing and referral in general practice: a study of patients' expectations and doctors' actions Sarah Webb and Margaret Lloyd

- 171 Factors influencing general practitioners' referral to hospital of adults with presumed infective diarrhoea Dilip Nathwani, Jeremy Grimshaw, Ross J Taylor, Lewis D Ritchie, J Graham Douglas and C Christopher Smith

- 175 Counselling in an inner city general practice: analysis of its use and uptake
Vivien Webber, Peter Davies and Patrick Pietroni

- 179 Screening for asthma in children Alan Jones

184 Letters

189 Book and video review

190 Classified advertisements

192 Journal referees 1993

RCGP Connection pull-out magazine included for members

