The management of suspected urinary tract infection in general practice
David Brooks

General practice training in the hospital
William McN Styles

Validation of a method for the rapid diagnosis of urinary tract infection suitable for use in general practice
C Hiscoke, H Yoxall, D Greig and N F Lightfoot

A study of microscopical and chemical tests for the rapid diagnosis of urinary tract infections in general practice
Robert K Ditchburn and Janet S Ditchburn

An evaluation of the hospital component of general practice vocational training
Karen Kearley

Acceptability of oxygen concentrators: the patient’s view
J P Dilworth, C M B Higgs, P A Jones and R J White

Hyperlipidaemia in general practice: three year follow up of an opportunistic screening project
J I Mann, B Morgan, M Ball, D Mant, L Jones and I Robertson

Experiences of patients with false positive results from colorectal cancer screening
D Mant, R Fitzpatrick, A Hogg, A Fuller, A Farmer, J Verne and J Northover

Do our patients receive maximum benefit from preventive care? A North American perspective
W W Rosser and H Lamberts

Letters

Infectious diseases update

Book and video review

Classified advertisements

ISSN 0960-1643