Adalat retard/Adalat retard 10: for the treatment of all grades of hypertension. Dosage and Administration: Adalat/Adalat S: The recommended dose is one 5mg capsule three times daily with a little fluid during or after food, with subsequent titration of dose according to response. The dosage may be adjusted within the range 5mg three times daily to 20mg three times daily. Adalat S capsules permit titration of initial dosage in the elderly and those patients on concomitant medication. The recommended dose is one Adalat S capsule three times daily. Patients with hepatic dysfunction should commence therapy at 5mg three times daily with careful monitoring. If an immediate anti-anginal effect is required, the capsule should be bitten and the liquid contents held in the mouth. Adalat retard/Adalat retard 10: The recommended dose is one 20mg tablet twice daily with a little fluid during or after food, with subsequent titration of dosage according to response. The dosage may be adjusted within the range 10mg twice daily to 40mg twice daily. Adalat retard 10 permits titration of initial dosage. The recommended dose is one Adalat retard 10 tablet twice daily and patients with hepatic dysfunction should commence therapy at this level, with careful monitoring. Regardless of the formulation used, patients with renal impairment should not require adjustment of dosage. There are no recommendations for use in children. Treatment may be continued indefinitely. Contra-Indications, warnings, etc. Contra-Indications: Nifedipine should not be administered to patients with known hypersensitivity to nifedipine or to women capable of child-bearing. Nifedipine should not be used in cardiological shock. Warnings and Precautions: Nifedipine may be used in combination with beta-blocking drugs and other antihypertensive agents but the possibility of an additive effect resulting in postural hypotension should be borne in mind. Nifedipine will not prevent rebound effects after cessation of other antihypertensive therapy. Nifedipine should be used with caution in patients whose cardiac reserve is impaired. Caution should be exercised in patients with severe hypotension. Hypotension has been reported in a small proportion of patients within 6 to 8 hours of the introduction of nifedipine therapy (different formulation administered). Although a "steal" effect has not been demonstrated, patients experiencing this effect should discontinue therapy. The use of nifedipine in diabetic patients may require adjustment of diabetic control. The antihypertensive effect of nifedipine may be increased by simultaneous administration of diuretics. When used in conjunction with nifedipine, serum quinidine levels have been shown to be unaffected by the dosage of quinidine. No information is available on the effect of nifedipine during lactation. Side-effects: Most side-effects of the vasodilator effects of nifedipine include headache, flushing. Gravitational edema, not associated with heart failure, has also been reported.
