Editorials

282 Follow up of patients with colorectal cancer: no simple solutions
John M Gollock

Shah Ebrahim

Original papers

287 Raised carcinoembryonic antigen level as an indicator of recurrent disease in the follow up of patients with colorectal cancer
W F A Miles, J D Greig, J Seth, C Sturgeon and S J Nixon

289 Does a reduction in general practitioners’ use of diagnostic tests lead to more hospital referrals?
R A G Winkens, R P T M Grol, G H M I Beusmans, A D M Kester, J A Knottnerus and P Pop

293 Heartsink patients: a study of their general practitioners
Nigel Mathers, Nicola Jones and David Hannay

297 Innovation in general practice: is the gap between training and non-training practices getting wider?
Richard Baker and John Thompson

301 General practitioner trainees’ experience of undertaking audit projects: preliminary report from the west of Scotland region
J McKay, J R M Lough and T S Murray

304 Examination of the effects of emotional disturbance and its detection on general practice patients’ satisfaction with the consultation
Philip M J Wilson, Frank Sullivan, Sami Hussein and George Davey Smith

310 Factors influencing mothers’ decisions to consult a general practitioner about their children’s illnesses
Liesl M Osman and David Dunt

313 Non-acute abdominal complaints in general practice: diagnostic value of signs and symptoms
J W M Muris, R Starmans, G H Fijten, H F J M Crebolder, H J A Schouten and J A Knottnerus

317 Bone mineral density in relation to medical and lifestyle risk factors for osteoporosis in premenopausal, menopausal and postmenopausal women in general practice
Agnes McKnight, Keith Steele, Karen Mills, Caroline Gilchrist and Hugh Taggart

321 Making reaccreditation meaningful
Fiona Nicol

325 Letters

331 Book and video review

335 Classified advertisements

RCGP Connection pull-out magazine included for members

ISSN 0960-1643