In the Journal this month

Research in general practice: who is calling the tune?  Tom O'Dowd

Research general practices  Denis Pereira Gray

Investigation in general practice of patients with suspected heart failure: how should the essential echocardiographic service be delivered?  M C Colquhoun, Colin Waine, M J Monaghan, A D Struthers and P G Mills

Factors that influence the patient centredness of a consultation  Susan A T Law and Nicky Britten

Development of a questionnaire to measure patients' satisfaction with general practitioners' services  Sarah Grogan, Mark Conner, David Willits and Paul Norman

Annual night visiting rates in 129 general practices in one family health services authority: association with patient and general practice characteristics  F Azeem Majeed, Derek G Cook, Sean Hilton, Jan Poloniecki and Adeline Hagen

Assessment of the completeness and accuracy of computer medical records in four practices committed to recording data on computer  Mike Pringle, Pat Ward and Clair Chilvers

Ebeltoft project: baseline data from a five-year randomized, controlled, prospective health promotion study in a Danish population  Torsten Lauritzen, Charlotte Leboeuf-Yde, Inga Marie Lunde and Karen-Dorthe Bach Nielsen

Implementation of quality assurance and medical audit: general practitioners' perceived obstacles and requirements  Richard Grol and Michel Wensing

Increasing the number of drugs available over the counter: arguments for and against  Colin P Bradley and Christine Bond

Clinical practice and medical research: bridging the divide between the two cultures  Penny Owen

Letters

Book and video review

Classified advertisements

RCGP Connection pull-out magazine included for members

ISSN 0960-1643