In the Journal this month

701 Career preferences of medical students: some unanswered questions
J R Morrissy

703 Learning for a multicultural society Paramjit S Gill and Phil Green

704 Morbidity and prescribing patterns for the middle-aged population of Scotland F G Whitelaw, S L Nevin, R J Taylor and A H Watt

708 One-year prognosis of abdominal complaints in general practice: a prospective study in patients in whom no organic cause is found Jean W M Muris, Richard Starmans, Gerda Fijten and J André Knotternus

710 Career preferences of medical students: influence of a new four-week attachment in general practice Jillian M Morrison and T Stuart Murray

712 The inter-observer reproducibility of Lasègue's sign in patients with low back pain in general practice Hans J M van den Hoogen, Bart W Koes, Walter Devillé, Jaques Th M van Eijk and Lex M Bouter

714 Audit of the care of patients with epilepsy in general practice Keith Redhead, Peter Tasker, Kirti Suchak, Mumtaz Ahmed, Graham Copsey, Pippa Roberts, Joanne Daws and Margaret Titmarsh

716 Is general practice audit alive and well? The view from Portsmouth Charles Lewis and Dee Combes

718 Overdose and termination of pregnancy: an important association? Helen Houston and Lionel Jacobson

720 An analysis of a general practitioner's workload in a disabled housing development Simon Eyre

722 The rapid access proctology clinic: an appraisal of one year's experience P Boghossian, W F A Miles, A M Gudgeon, N Richardson, J Ho and R J Leicester

724 The clinical problem of Bell's palsy: is treatment with steroids effective? I G Williamson and T R Whelan

726 The computer research network of the Royal New Zealand College of General Practitioners: an approach to general practice research in New Zealand Susan M Dovey and Murray Tilyard

730 Letters

732 Book reviews

734 International digest

736 Classified advertisements

RCGP Connection pull-out magazine included for members