

The British Journal of General Practice

Editorials

- 310 Management of patients with schizophrenia in general practice
Michael B King

- 311 Desktop laboratory technology for general practice
George K Freeman

Original papers

- 313 Why do patients consult the general practitioner? Determinants of their decision
Angélique van de Kar, André Knottnerus, Ree Meertens, Vic Dubois and Gerjo Kok

- 317 Comparison of the use of four desktop analysers in six urban general practices
F D R Hobbs, P M G Broughton, J E Kenkre, G H G Thorpe and A Batki

- 322 Attitudes to community psychiatry among urban and rural general practitioners
Stephen A Stansfeld, Catherine A Leek, William Travers and Trevor Turner

- 326 Study of patients who chose private health care for treatment
Joan Higgins and Rose Wiles

- 330 Diagnostic yield from barium enemas: a study among patients referred by general practitioners and hospital outpatient departments
James M C Wafula

- 333 Audit and academic departments of general practice: a survey in the United Kingdom and Eire
John A Spencer

Review article

- 336 Abnormal cervical smear test results: old dilemmas and new directions
Clare Wilkinson

Discussion paper

- 340 Paternalism and the doctor-patient relationship in general practice
Brian McKinstry

Personal view

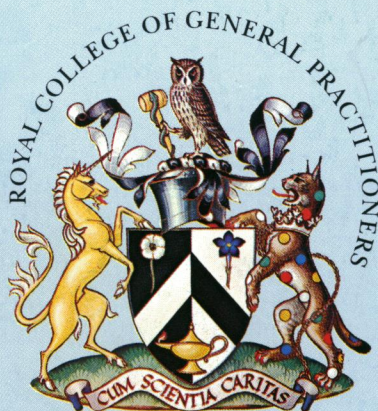

- 343 The College in my faculty
Tom Davies

- 346 Letters

- 350 Book and video review

- 351 Classified advertisements

RCGP Connection pull-out magazine included for members

40TH ANNIVERSARY

1952-1992

ISSN 0960-1643