

ANNUAL SPRING MEETING 1973

From H.R.H. The Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, K.G., K.T., O.M., G.B.E.

President-elect of the Royal College of General Practitioners

Buckingham Palace

As President-elect of the Royal College of General Practitioners, it gives me great pleasure to learn that the College of Family Physicians of Canada is to pay a return visit to the Royal College to participate in a joint congress in London in April 1973, during my term of office.

By a strange coincidence I was President of both the British and the Canadian Medical Associations in 1959. These opportunities for contact between people with the same professional problems are always immensely valuable for discussion and comparison.

I hope all Canadians attending this congress will enjoy themselves as much as their British colleagues did during their visit to Canada a few years ago.
