

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Volume 28

Number 190

May 1978

Editorials

General practitioners and general physicians
Anaphylaxis and the community nurse

Butterworth Gold Medal Essay 1977

Towards better prescribing

Child care in general practice

Influence of illness on developmental progress in children under two

Early infant feeding and weight gain

Practice organization

The reliability and validity of the age-sex register as a population denominator in general practice

History of general practice

The rise of the general practitioner in the nineteenth century

Rabies

'A hair of the dog'

Primary care around the world

The operation of a health centre after a catastrophe in Finland

Published by Update Publications Ltd

ISSN 0035-8797