

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Volume 28

Number 195

October 1978

Editorials

The family doctor's family

Some aims for training for general practice

The doctor's family

Some dynamics of medical marriages

Headache in general practice

Double blind trial of clonidine in the treatment of migraine

The prevalence and diagnosis of headache in an urban practice

Primary care in big cities

Medical problems in Inner London

The family doctor in Central London

Looking after children

How much child psychiatry does a general practitioner do?

Published by Update Publications Ltd

ISSN 0035-8797