

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Volume 29

Number 204

July 1979

Editorials

Compliance

Warm welcome in Wales

Compliance

Compliance with prescribed medicines: a study of elderly patients in the community

Improving drug compliance in general practice

Why not?

Why not teach about the consultation itself?

Prescribing in general practice

The changing pattern of general practitioner drug prescribing in the National Health Service in England from 1970 to 1975

A randomized controlled trial of aspirin in the prevention of early mortality in myocardial infarction

Drugs and prescribing: what the patient thinks

A simple method of encouraging postgraduate learning in therapeutics

Primary care around the world

Primary health care in the New Hebrides

Child care

Infant feeding and overweight in two Oxfordshire towns

Published by Update Publications Ltd

ISSN 0035-8797