

WJ
J095S

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Volume 30

Number 220

November 1980

Editorials

- Is counselling the key?
- Catchment areas for general practice?

Psychosocial problems

- A problem-orientated approach to management of mental illness in developing countries
- Mental health as an integrant of primary medical care
- Group-based care: does it change problem behaviour?
- Counselling in general practice
- Management of neurotic problems in general practice
- Psychiatry and general practice: results of a survey of Avon general practitioners

Why not?

- Why not discard the desk?

Medical geography

- Spatial patterns of surgery attendance: some implications for the provision of primary health care

Published by Update Publications Ltd

ISSN 0035-8797