

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Volume 31

Number 232

November 1981

Editorials

Perinatal mortality: surveillance and audit

Body and mind

Prevention: where next?

Continuing education

Prescribing

Duplicate prescriptions: an aid to research and review

Prescribing in general practice and the provision of drug information

Medical education

Muscle and joint pain: design and evaluation of courses for general practitioners

Disability and rehabilitation

Long-term disability and return to work

The team

Blood pressure measurement by pharmacists

Clinical work in general practice

Acute pancreatitis in general practice

Training for general practice

Patients' attitudes towards trainees

Using computers

Computers in general practice: the patient's voice

Why not?

Tetanus: why not immunize housewives and the elderly?

Published by Update Publications Ltd

ISSN 0035-8797

NEWS AND VIEWS
P. 689