

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF GENERAL PRACTITIONERS
BOOTHAM OFFICE

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Volume 34

Number 261

April 1984

Editorials

Quality in general practice—again
Doctors talking to patients

Original papers

The psychologist's contribution to primary care: a reappraisal
General practitioners' care of the elderly: studies of aspects of workload
The general practitioner in the inner city: a survey of a London health district
Comparison of the care of children with Down's syndrome with the care of matched controls
The importance of tuberculin retesting in the adult community at risk
Compiling a practice disease register—the prevalence of incidental problems
Psychotropic drug prescribing
Chronic or recurring cough in children—a presentation of asthma?
A ledger stamped 'G.P.'

Practice activity analysis

Short report

History of medicine

Published by Update Publications Ltd

ISSN 0035-8797