

The Journal of The Royal College of General Practitioners

Editorials

- 433 The health needs of homeless families A.M.B. Golding
434 Future trends in general practice computing F. Difford
436 Depression in general practice Denis Pereira Gray
436 Read any good papers lately?

Original papers

- 437 Comparison of hypnosis with conventional relaxation for antenatal and intrapartum use: a feasibility study in general practice Les R. Brann and Sally A. Guzvica
441 Survey of population coverage in cervical cancer screening in the Oxford region Angela Coulter and Alice Baldwin
444 A 'house doctor' scheme for primary health care for the single homeless in Edinburgh P.V. Powell
448 Providing census data for general practice. 1. Feasibility Allen Hutchinson, Christopher Foy and Jane Smyth
451 Providing census data for general practice. 2. Usefulness Christopher Foy, Allen Hutchinson and Jane Smyth
455 Consultation-based screening of the elderly in general practice: a pilot study Charles B. Freer

Short reports

- 457 Students' awareness of and attitudes to AIDS J.S. Brown, W.G. Irwin, K. Steele and R.W. Harland
459 Aspirin and Reye's syndrome — do parents know? R.W. Hall

461 Letters

467 Digest

469 Primary care bookshelf

471 News

480 Classified advertisements and notices

