Corrigendum — Health checks

In the editorial by David Mant (Health checks — time to check out? Br J Gen Pract 1994; 44: 51-52) reference 11 was incorrect. The reference should have read:

Rose G. Strategy for prevention. Oxford University Press, 1992.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS AND READERS

Papers submitted for publication should not have been published before or be currently submitted to any other journal. They should be typed, on one side of the paper only, in double spacing and with generous margins. A4 is the preferred paper size. The first page should contain the title only. To assist in sending out papers blind to referees, the name(s) of author(s) (maximum of eight), degrees, position, town of residence, address for correspondence and acknowledgements should be on a sheet separate from the main text.

Original articles should normally be no longer than 2500 words, arranged in the usual order of summary, introduction, method, results, discussion and references. Letters to the editor should be brief — 400 words maximum — and should be typed in double spacing.

Illustrations should be used only when data cannot be expressed clearly in any other way. Graphs and other line drawings need not be submitted as finished artwork — rough drawings are sufficient, provided they are clear and adequately annotated.

Metric units, SI units and the 24-hour clock are preferred. Numerals up to nine should be spelt, 10 and over as figures. One decimal place should be given for percentages where baselines are 100 or greater. Use the approved names of drugs, though proprietary names may follow in brackets. Avoid abbreviations.

References should be in the Vancouver style as used in the Journal. Their accuracy must be checked before submission. The figures, tables, legends and references should be on separate sheets of paper. If a questionnaire has been used in the study, a copy of it should be enclosed.

Three copies of each article should be submitted and the author should keep a copy. One copy will be returned if the paper is rejected. Rejected manuscripts will be thrown away after three years. Two copies of revised articles are sufficient. A covering letter should make it clear that the final manuscript has been seen and approved by all the authors.

All articles and letters are subject to editing.

Papers are refereed before a decision is made.

Published keywords are produced using the GP-LIT thesaurus.

More detailed instructions are published annually in the January issue.

Correspondence and enquiries

All correspondence should be addressed to: The Editor, British Journal of General Practice, Royal College of General Practitioners, 12 Queen Street, Edinburgh EH2 1JE. Telephone (office hours; 24 hour answering service): 031-225 7629. Fax (24 hours): 031-220 6750.

Copyright

Authors of all articles assign copyright to the Journal. However, authors may use minor parts (up to 15%) of their own work after publication without seeking written permission provided they acknowledge the original source. The Journal would, however, be grateful to receive notice of when and where such material has been reproduced. Authors may not reproduce substantial parts of their own material without written consent. However, requests to reproduce material are welcomed and consent is usually given. Individuals may photocopy articles for educational purposes without obtaining permission up to a maximum of 25 copies in total over any period of time. Permission should be sought from the editor to reproduce an article for any other purpose.
